

PADNET offers production services that are flexible and affordable. You can choose from the basic packages below which cover our most popular types of videos. All production services include a consultation to discuss video details, direction, and production schedule. Completed videos will be provided to client via a downloadable link or copied onto a client-provided hard drive.

When you hire PADNET for production services, you also have the option to share your video with a wider audience. We broadcast on Spectrum 32 and Frontier 41 in Long Beach and we also livestream our channel at padnet.tv. With your permission, we're happy to include your PADNET-produced video on our channel broadcast absolutely free!
